

i am happy with my ISP, i have been with them for 3 years and been totaly pleased with there services. I want to be able to chose who i want to serve me not that it is not becace someone is trying to get totale controle of everything. that is what is wrong with the world today everyone is trying to contrloe everyone. what ever happen to fredome to chose. it isn't right for these big componies to put smaller ones out of buiseness they have to make a living too.
